

The Path To Clergy

The Correllian Tradition prides itself on one of the most comprehensive Clergy training programs of any Wiccan Tradition. Correllian Clergy candidates study a wide range of theological and metaphysical subjects, with an emphasis on the spiritual understandings and processes which underlie our actions, as well as important social issues like group dynamics, community building, and issues of public appearance and behavior.

The Correllian Tradition is Wiccan in the same sense that Dianic or Celtic Wicca are Wiccan, and is not Gardnerian or Alexandrian in origin. We are at this time in our history an emphatically public and populist movement. Though many of our students pursue Clerical studies primarily for personal growth, our Clergy program focuses on ideas of community service. We believe that we are called by God/dess to be midwives to a New Age and pursue our vocations accordingly.

Correllian Clergy candidates may study through any of the several legally incorporated Correllian churches, or through our online educational partner Witch School (www.witchschool.com).

What is Wicca?

Many people today, dissatisfied with the spiritual answers of past generations, are turning to new ways of thinking and being. They seek a new answer to their spiritual questions –and for many that new answer is Wicca.

Wicca is a Nature-based religion of heterogeneous origins. The many branches of Wicca share for the most part a reverence for Deity as both Mother Goddess and Father God, the veneration of many different Deity forms, and ideas of reincarnation and Karma, and The Wiccan Rede: “Do As You Will But Harm None”.

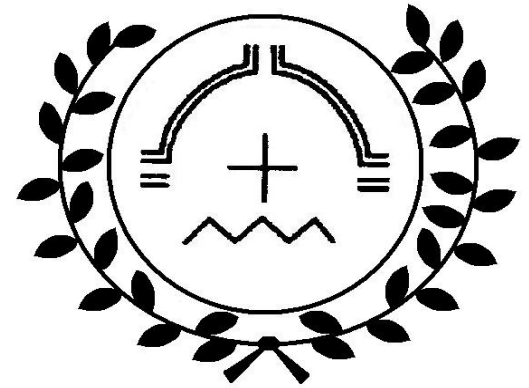

The Wiccan community is thriving, vibrant, and above all growing. Many influences, notably the advent of the internet with its unprecedented ability to help people connect over great distances, have helped transform this once small and secretive movement into a full-fledged world religion and popular movement.

Never before has the desire for Wiccan education been so great, or the need for well-trained Wiccan Clergy so important.

The Correllian Tradition, among the largest branches of modern Wicca, has risen to the occasion by making its Clergy training program available to students world-wide. Never before has Wiccan Clergy training been so easily accessible to all those who desire to learn!

The Correllian Nativist Wicca Clergy Training Program

Correllian Nativist Wicca is among the fastest growing spiritual movements in the world today. Correllianism offers answers to all those wonder: is there more to life than the physical? Are magic and the psychic arts real? What happens to me when I die?

Just as many Buddhists pursue monastic training at some point in their lives in order to strengthen their spirituality, so too most Correllians pursue Clergy training. For some it remains an aspect of their personal spiritual growth, for others it becomes a vocation of community service. For all it offers a solid grounding in the religion, meaningful spiritual answers, and the chance to develop their psychic and magical skills.
